Help:Infobox/user style

From Blue Gold Program Wiki

The printable version is no longer supported and may have rendering errors. Please update your browser bookmarks and please use the default browser print function instead.

Infoboxes and user style

Users can have user CSS that hides any infoboxes in their own browsers.

To hide all infoboxes, add the following to Special:MyPage/common.css (for all skins, or Special:MyPage/skin.css for just the current skin), on a line by itself: `<syntaxhighlight lang="css">.infobox { display: none; }</syntaxhighlight>`

Alternatively, you can add the following code to your common.js or into a browser user script that is executed by an extension like Greasemonkey:

<syntaxhighlight lang="js">$($('.infobox').hide());</syntaxhighlight>

Be aware that although, per WP:Manual of Style/Infoboxes, all information in an infobox ideally should also be found in the main body of an article, there isn't perfect compliance with this guideline. For example, the full taxonomic hierarchy in `{{Taxobox}}`, and the OMIM and other medical database codes of `{{Infobox disease}}` are often not found in the main article content. The infobox is also often the location of the most significant, even only, image in an article.

Documentation

This documentation snippet is transcluded at Help:Infobox, Template:Infobox/doc, WP:Customisation#Hiding specific messages, Help:User style, WP:Manual of Style/Infoboxes, and other places where this information is relevant.

As a template, this snippet takes a `|heading=` parameter to replace the level-2 `==Infoboxes and user style==` section heading code, as needed. E.g, for a `=== . . . ===` level-3 heading: `heading={{=}}{{=}}{{=}}Infoboxes and user style{{=}}{{=}}{{=}}`

Blue Gold Program Wiki

The wiki version of the Lessons Learnt Report of the Blue Gold program, documents the experiences of a technical assistance (TA) team working in a development project implemented by the Bangladesh Water Development Board (BWDB) and the Department of Agricultural Extension (DAE) over an eight+ year period from March 2013 to December 2021. The wiki lessons learnt report (LLR) is intended to complement the BWDB and DAE project completion reports (PCRs), with the aim of recording lessons learnt for use in the design and implementation of future interventions in the coastal zone.
